THOTES BOY BLUEL

Under the hay-stack, little Boy Blue Sleep: with his head on his arm, While voices of men and voices of maids Are calling him over the farm.

Sheep in the meadows are running wild. Where poisonous herbage grows, Leaving white tufts of downy freece On the throrns of the sweet wild rose.

Out in fields where the silken corn Its plumed head nods and bows; Where golden pumpkins ripen below Trample the white faced cows.

But no loud blast on the shining horn Calls back the straying sheep. And the cows may wander in hay or corn, While their keeper lies fast asleep.

His cimples are all at rest; The chubby hand, tucked under his head, By one rosy cheek is pressed. Waken him? No. Let down the bars

His rog sh eyes are tightly shut.

And gather the truant sheep, Open the barnyard and drive in the cows. But let the little boy sleep. For year after year we can shear the fleece.

And corn can always be sown;

But the sleep that visits little Boy Blue Will not come when the years have flown. -Abby Sage Richardson.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean, in commenting on the defeat of woman's suffrage in Co oraco, says:—

"A patriotic and refined society recognizes the right of petition to recress a wrong to the poorest and weakest of its number. From the nature of things every ranica change, everly reform, meets opposition. In the ranks of the advocates o female suffrage there are noue women who believe that the course of humanity would be benefited, and that women would be elevated by the right of franchise. These acvocates wie not be but down by ricicule and the Hopant boaster who dec ares with reloicing that they were 'rousec horse, loct, and petticoats,' would be one of the toniest anima's ever ec by apron strings if the cause was once to become popular. If the women of America demand the elective franchise they will get it. The discussion of the question. and arriving at the real acts, has worked no evi to society. The appearance of women in the opera, at the ecture cess, in the pulpit, and in the professions has not degraded her. Who coes not rejoice that in the light of this centennia year the avenues for nonest ive inooc, and the doors of our institutions of earning, are being openec up for our caughters? It has not been accomplished without a contest. As we contend, we can ever nest assuree that in the wiscom waich rules

The party, in its national and State platforms, and in the utterances ond ic cuties assigned them, have from its organization to the present period never lost sight of reform in its highest sense. It declicated the new Territories to freecom in the name of reform. It struck the chains from the millions of slaves, and bade them assume the cuties of citizenship in the name o reform. It has been using every possible effort, though often ithwaited, to do justly with the indian. No question affecting the rights and privileges of the poorest citizens of the commonweath has ever failed in a hearing before this party curing the years of its existence. The cry! that comes to us now from the enemies of the party, that for the sake of, and in the name of "civi-service reform," the organization must be abanconed, is simply absurc. The statesmen and politicians of the Republican party, who have made the question of such importance as to move upon untrieground, even in opposition to the wishes of the great majority, are deceived and wi have to retrace their steps. We will not uncertake to say that the civil service as acministered is perfect. There have been great and absorbing questions occupying the minds of the peope; questions underlying and endangering our very existence as a nation. While absorbed in these it would not be woncerful if, through the selfis mess of men, there should have grown up irregularities. The writer of this letter is one of the richest men in lingland, and belongs to a family that has been eng ged in making iron for two hundred years. For many years past the principal market for his rails his been in this country, and norm or the first time he finds it impossible to secure in order for a single ton if iron here. During the first nine in this of the present rear the United States imported only twentyfive hundred tons of railroad iron, while during the same morths in 1869 we imported about five hundred thousand tons. The same failing off in importations is roticenble in a most every foreign produc. We have ceased to be heavy importers of anything. Oad the contrary, we are now exporting millions of dollars' worth of goods, not only to England's colonial markets, but to England herself. Hardware stores in Sheffield are filled with American goods, while our calicoes are selving Lanchester and other cotton districts. withing mm has been deposed from her positime as the armory of the world, and her dealers "are receiving orders from the colonies for American notions." #### THE ELECTIONS.

The reports of the results of the elections that look place last Tuesday in six great States are of the most meagre character. Enough is known, however, to show pretty conclusive y that he principles of the Republicar party are still lear to a majority of the people of the North. As the New York Tribune says, for several months it has been universally believed that he Democrats would make a very clean sweet of nearly all the States voting in November, while the result shows that they have secured but two of the six, one of which has of late been giving a Democratic majority.

Connecticut, which went Democratic last year by a majority of about 3,000, has just gone Republican, greatly increasing the s rength of that party in the Legislature.

We have but few returns from New York, but they show that that State has not only overcome the Democratic majority of 32,000 last year, out has given the Republicans a handsome majority and a decided control of the Legislature. The Democrats had an assured victory in New York until the Tammany Cinal ring tan away with the party at the State convention, which so disgusted the better class of Democrats that they cut loose from the party that appeared to be so entirely controlled by thieves. Massachusetts has given her usual Recobii can majority, which astonishes both parties, as a very close contest was predicted.

In New ersey the Democrats trumph by about their majorny of last year. We have re garder the election of McClellan as a certainty ever since his nomination. In spite of all that has been said against him, Little A ac has a strong hold on the affections of a large class of Pendsylvania went Democratic by some theus ids. We have not yet gotten the details. of the election in that State, but presime that the Workingmen's Greenback ticket holled a heavy vote, which came largely from those who have hitherto voted the Republican ticket. A desperate local split in the ranks of the latter party in Philadelphia doubtlessly commbuted to the result in the State.

Wisconsin, according to the latest advices, went Republican by two or three thousand mathe Last, and at the same time opens up one of norty. The Democrats have been predicting Altogether the result is very favorable to the Republicars, the victory having been won in , su spay at present in case of a fire. the fac of tremendous ords in the way of many disadvantages which would have wrecked a justy less tenacions of principle.
